ACSSA Association of Salesian History Lovers

ACSSA has as its objective the promotion of studies in Salesian history, facilitating research, updating and collaboration among its members. It also animates the Salesian Family under a historiographic profile and diffuses knowledge of Don Bosco and the Congregations, Associations and Groups that take their origin from him, always in dialogue with analogous civil and religious institutions. (Statutes, Art. 1)

ACSSA attains its objectives through (a) a congress every five years, (b) meetings of members according to geographical areas, (c) contributions by way of studies, (d) organization of conferences, (e) promotion and conservation of sources such as written memoirs, photographs, radio and television programmes, (f) publication of a news bulletin, (g) any other initiative compatible with the objectives laid down in the Statutes. (Statutes, Art. 2)

To be enrolled as an ACSSA member one should be qualified in the historical sciences, or be involved at various levels of research, study and interest in Salesian history. (Statutes, Art. 7.1)
